ONE SHIP DRIVES EAST

One ship drives east and another west,
While the selfsame breezes blow;
'Tis the set of the sail and not the gale
That bids them where to go.

Like the wind of the air are the ways of fate,
As we journey along through life;
'Tis the set of the soul that decides the goal,
And not the storm or the strife.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

MR. KENNETH LOGAN

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

When you realize that Carnegie High School was established sixty-six years ago at a time when there were only two other high schools in all of Allegheny County, you begin to share our pride in its long history of graduating outstanding young men and women. We believe that many of our present students will further enhance the ranks of our alumni. However, these students must understand that, in this rapidly changing world, one can never acquire enough training or education to meet the challenge of tomorrow.

MR. WADE WHITLATCH

PRINCIPAL

The well-rounded development of the student is the primary aim at Carnegie High School. Through our academic and extra-curricular programs, we seek to build good study habits and character in our students. If this goal is achieved, we feel certain that our graduates may meet any challenge that they may face in the future.

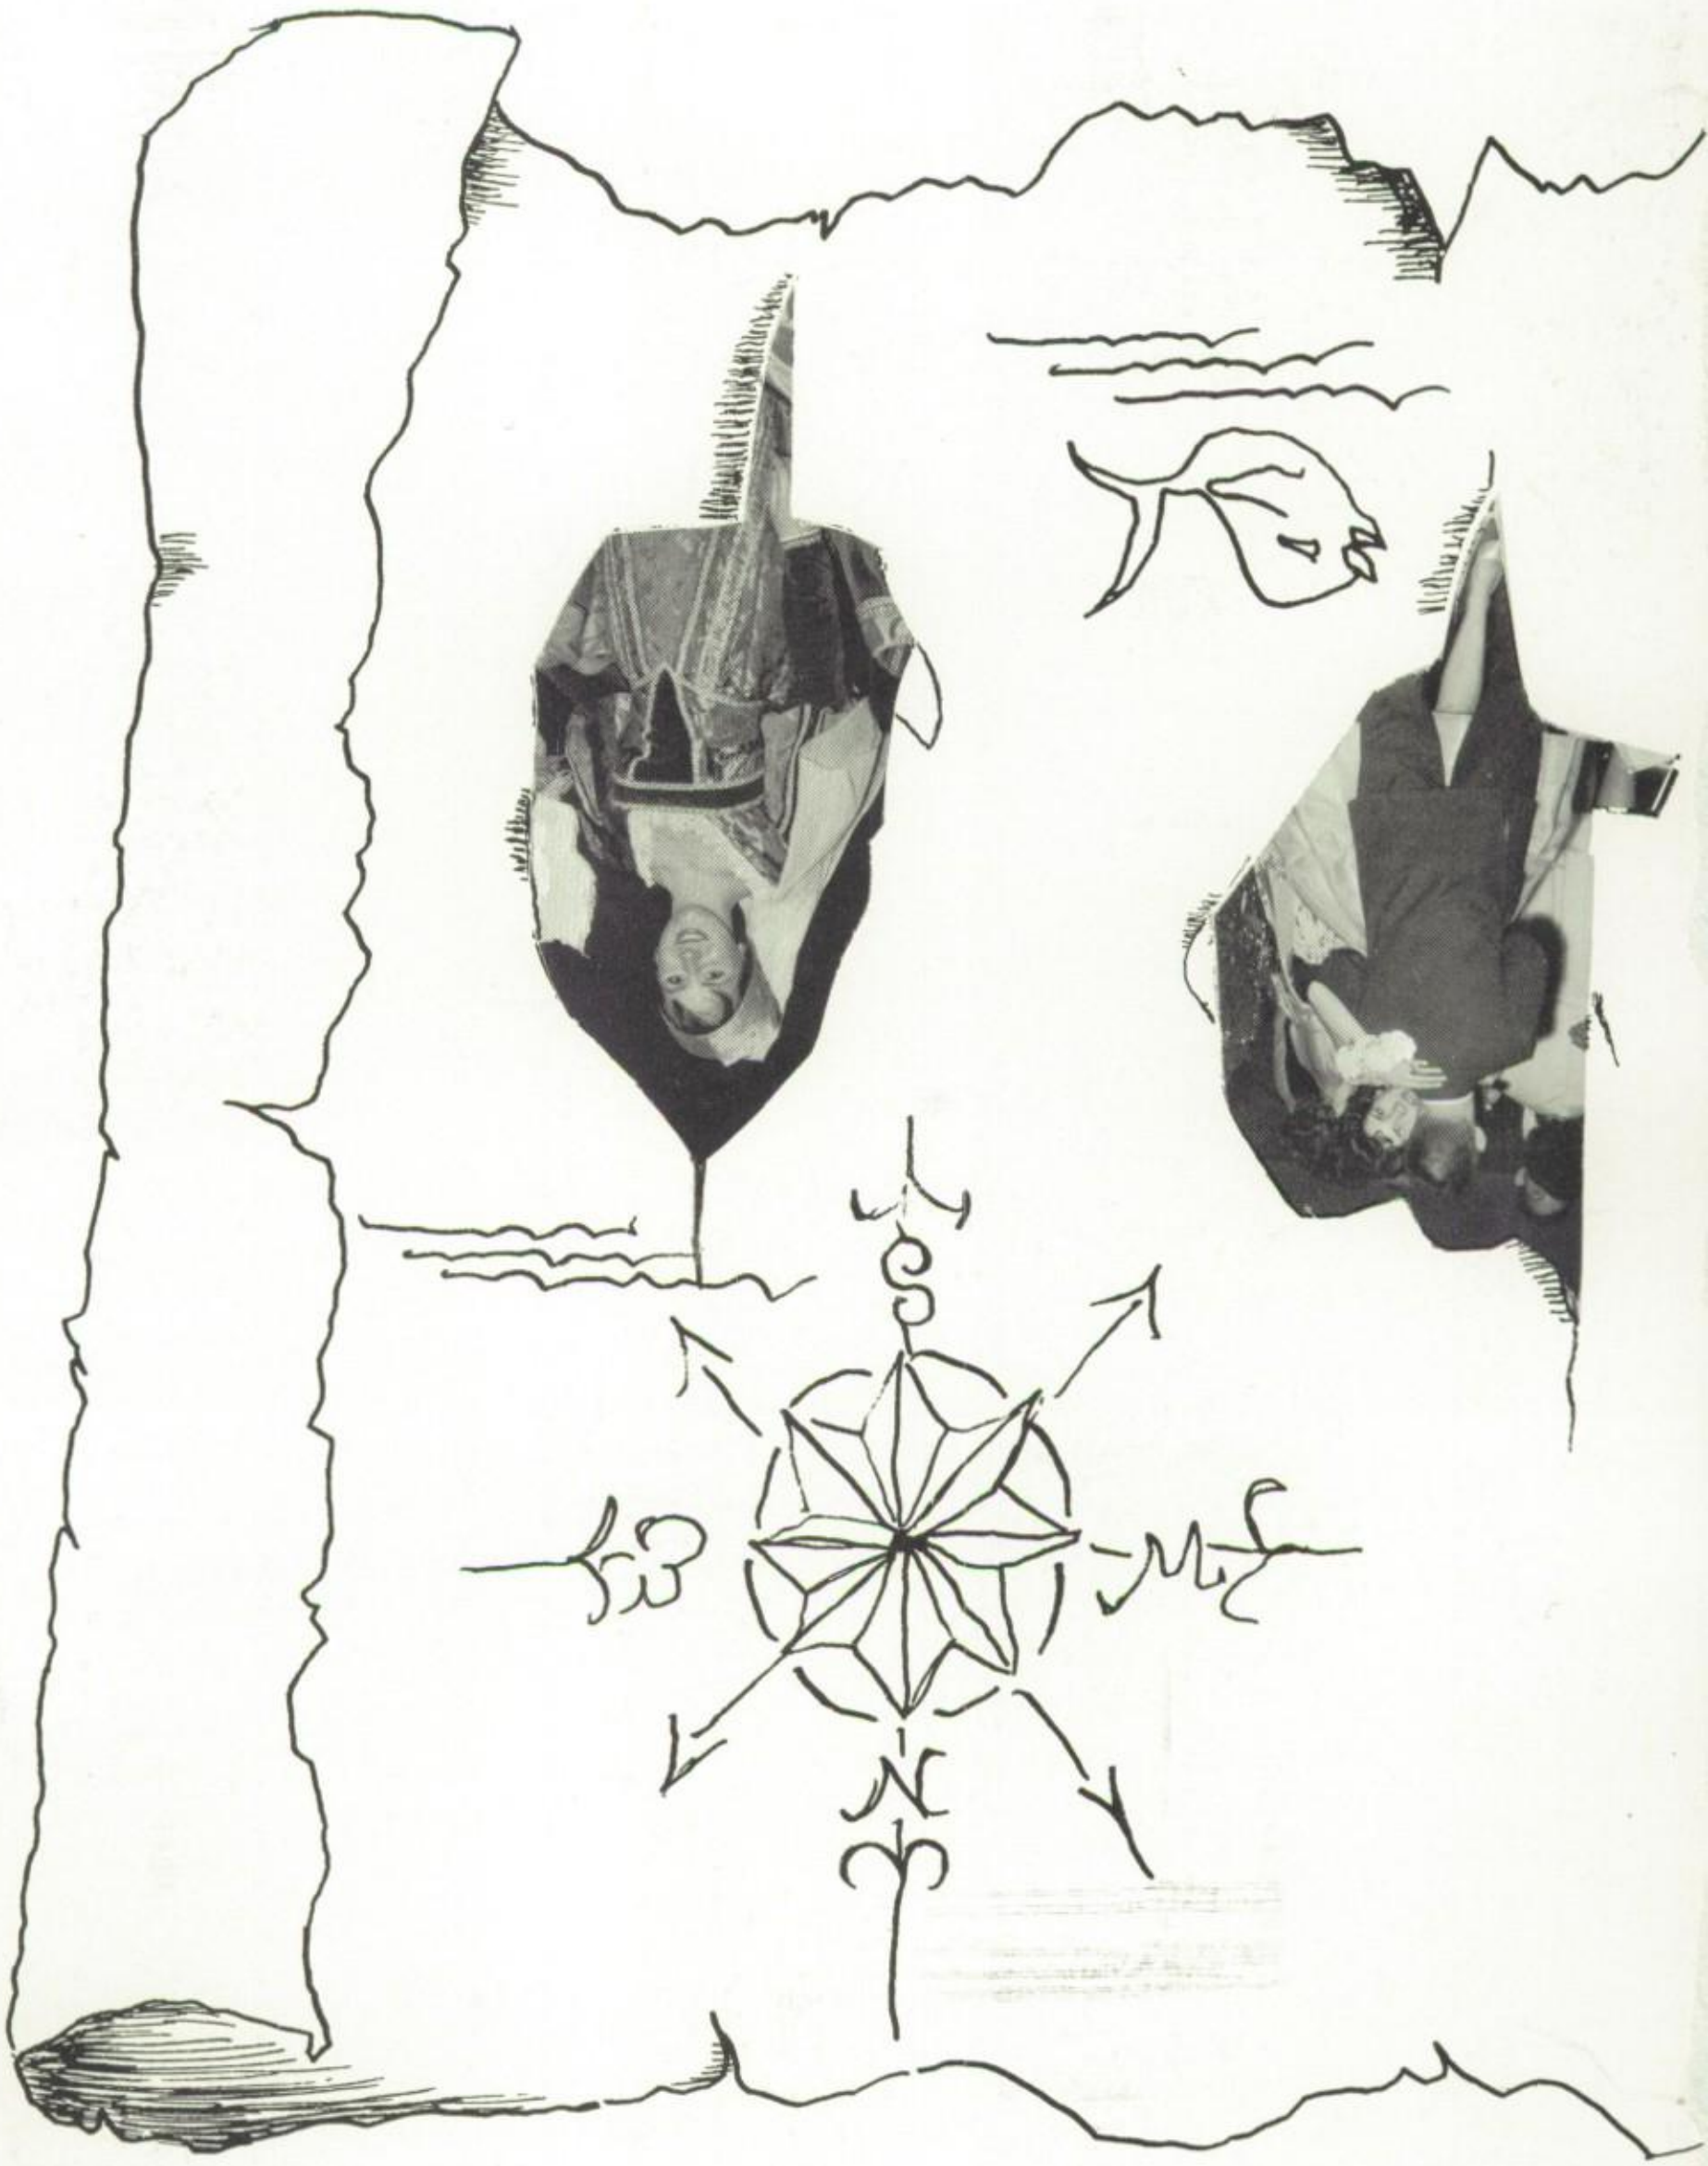
SENIORS



Samuel Cole, Gloria Buny, Kathleen Haracy, Antonio Estefan.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

At the beginning of the school term, the Class of 1962 elected the following students from among its members to class offices: Samuel Cole, president; Antonio Estefan, vice-president; Gloria Buny, secretary; and Kathleen Haracy, treasurer.

Samuel Cole is one of the outstanding boys in the Class of 1962. His achievements range from the athletic to the academic. "Chip" lends a ready and willing hand wherever he is needed, and he can always be counted on to do a good job. Fellow members of his class showed their faith in his ability to handle responsibility by electing "Chip" president of the class.

Antonio Estefan, or Tony as everyone calls him, came to Carnegie High School from Rio de Janerio, Brazil. Tony's easy smile and sense of humor immediately won him many friends. Tony has become an important part of many high school functions, and C.H.S. students are always happy to have Tony with them.

Gloria Buny, secretary of the senior class, is also one of the pretty and peppy C.H.S. cheerleaders. Jeannie is a hard and efficient worker and takes an active role in everything she is associated with. She is enthusiastic and congenial and highly deserves the honor of senior class officer.

Kathleen Haracy has become an outstanding senior through her achievements in both academic and social activities. Kathy assumes a great amount of the responsibility which goes with the many positions which she holds, including editor of the VOYAGER. As a result of this her classmates have elected her treasurer of the Class of 1962.

Seniors Raise $800 for Yearbook

The magazine campaign, originated to help finance the VOYAGER, began early in September. Samuel Cole, senior class president, was chairman of the drive. Sam appointed Robert Aston, Judy Milliken, Leroy Molinaro, and Sandra Stevenson as his assistants. The Educational Reader Service, Inc., which sponsored the magazine campaign, offered prizes to the three highest salesmen. At the close of the campaign Leroy Austin was announced high salesman. Gloria Buny and Victor Raskin were runners-up.

See Staff

The "See" in its 28th year at Carnegie High School was for the first time published by a journalism class and printed professionally. Serving as the student "voice" of the school, the paper reported student, faculty, and administration news and commented on school, local, and national affairs.

The 12 members of the journalism class met before school hours to study newspaper writing, copy editing, layout, and make-up design.

In November the "See" earned membership in Quill and Scroll, the International Honor Society for scholastic journalism. Officers of the association approved the paper and granted a charter to Carnegie. Some individual members of the "See" staff were accepted for membership after meeting requirements which included journalistic interests, general scholastic average, and the amount of material published.

Recognizing the responsibilities that belong to the journalist, members of the staff sought to present a picture of Carnegie High School and to guide student interest and opinion on matters of importance to the school and community.

UNDERCLASSMEN

Junior Class Officers

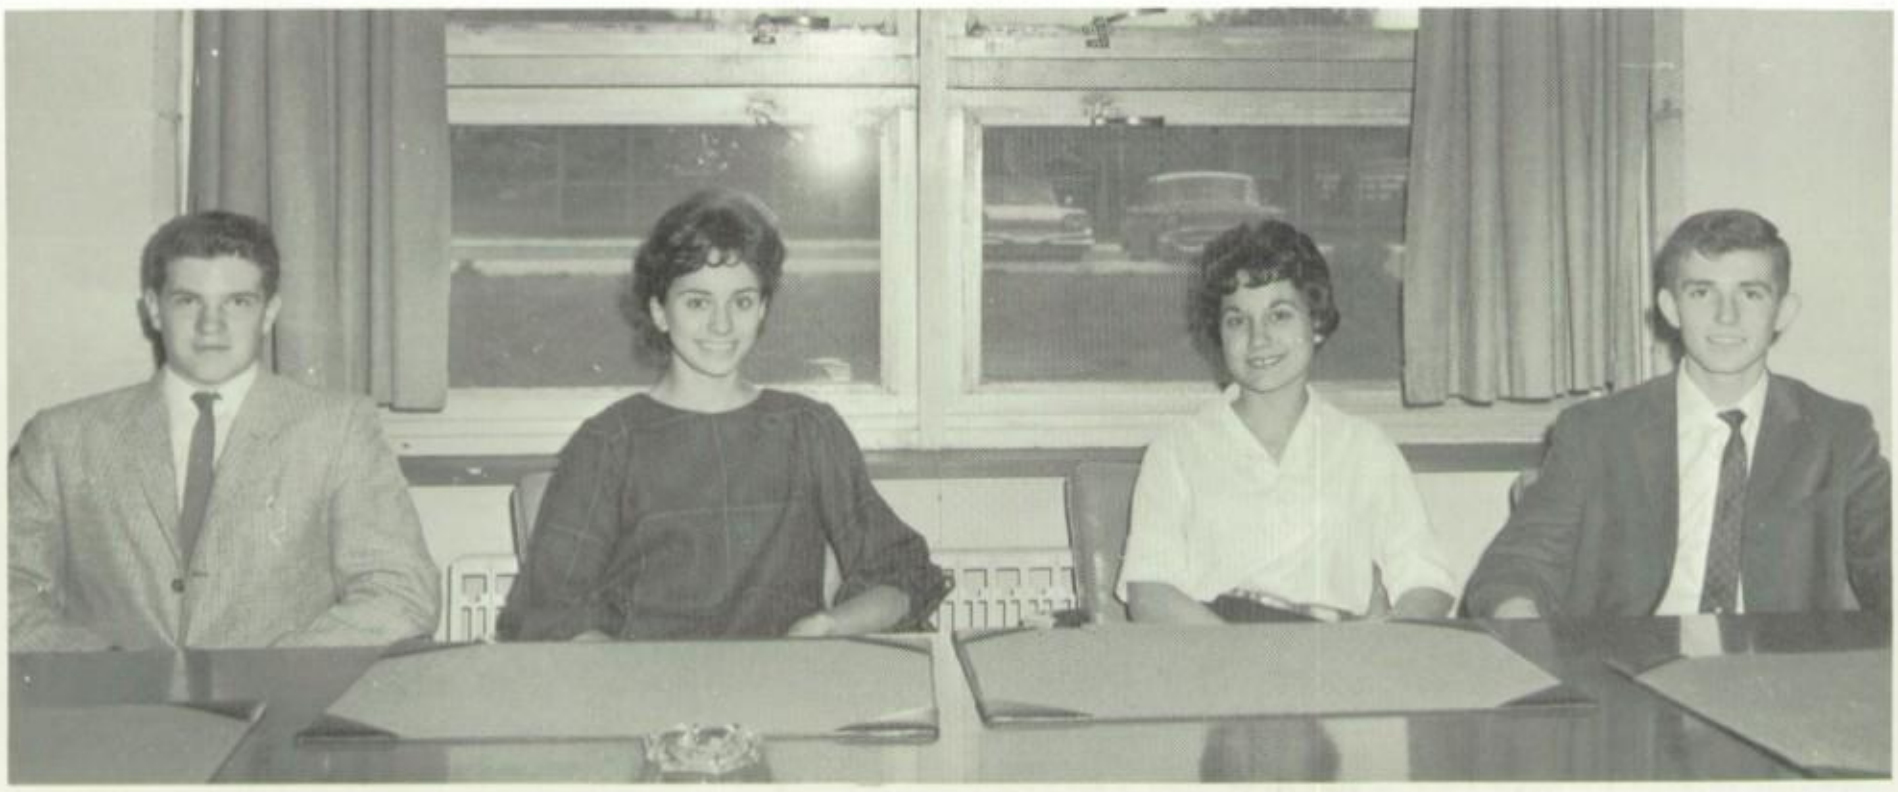
The Class of 1963 chose Joseph Madva, Danny Zebraskey, Sally Marsilio and Carol Yadlosky as junior class officers.

President Joseph Madva is an honor student active in many school organizations. In addition, he is an outstanding football and basketball player. Joe exhibits qualities of leadership in all he does and the class made an excellent choice for president.

Joe's right-hand man is Danny Zebraskey. Danny, a hard worker in Student Council, the Novus Hi-Y, and the French-Spanish Club, combines work with fun whenever possible. His wonderful sense of humor has made him a favorite among his classmates.

One of the little Tartan Cheerleaders is represented among the Class officers. She is Sally Marsilio, treasurer. Sally is admired and liked for her neatness and easy smile. She is an active member of the Mixed Ensemble and Student Council. Sally's eagerness to do a good job on work assigned makes her a natural for the important office of class Treasurer.

Carol Yadlosky is secretary of the class. Carol is a member of the Girls' Ensemble and Assistant Art Editor on the VOYAGER. One of Carol's distinguishing qualities is her willingness to assume responsibility. This has contributed to her success as class secretary.



Left to Right: J. Madva, C. Yadloskey, S. Marsilio, D. Zebraskey.

Homeroom 104
Juniors

"What's Checco's first name?" repeats Pop for the third time.

"Here I am Pop. Don't put my name on the absentee slip," comes a faint cry from locker 58.

"Why don't you people get in here when that bell rings?"

Familiar to the occupants of room 104 is this dialogue between Mr. Robert Sawhill (Pop) and Adrienne Checco, a popular CHS cheerleader and student council member.

Sally Phillips, a member of the select Girls' Ensemble, hails from room 104 and Jamie Florence and Bob Caruso members of the Varsity Singers. The noisy junior homeroom 104 is certainly well-represented scholastically by Arlene Sherman and Christine Haracy, Margie Emmett, and Chuck Mathe, regular Honor Roll students.

FIRST ROW: I. Makar, C. Bonnetti, J. Alderson, S. Marsilio, K. Miller, J. Douds, R. Wynnick, C. Davin, M. Cain, T. Hoffman; SECOND ROW: Mr. Meade, E. Dey, D. Gulick, C. Stein, J. Middleton, M. Sophomores

Room 211 is a sophomore homeroom. It is represented on the Student Council by Donna Cole who is also a Cheerleader. David Nixon and Paul Spivak are on the tennis team. Many of the students in homeroom 211 seem to be inspired by the surrounding lab tables, test tubes, and bottles of hydrochloric acid, for they spend much of their time filling out lab books and working on experiments.

Left to right: D. Cole, J. Stevenson, D. Nixon.

Rich Henry and Denny Doran both hold important positions in school organizations. Rich is president of the Chess Club and Denny is manager of the Basketball team. Frank Stark, also of Room 212, works backstage during assemblies and school programs operating the lights and microphones.

Stuart Saints and Tony Estefan Participate in Program

The Foreign Exchange Program was introduced at Carnegie five years ago. Since that time Carnegie has enjoyed the presence of students from Argentina, France, Germany, the Philippines and now from Brazil. Students vie to participate in the summer program during their junior year.

Stuart Saints represented Carnegie High School in the American Field Service Program last year. Stuart spent eleven weeks in Sweden during the summer. He returned with many interesting experiences to tell about the Swedes and showed slides to the entire student body at an assembly. He has given several fine speeches to various organizations to promote better understanding of the Scandinavian countries.

Tony Estefan arrived this year from Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. His father is a criminal lawyer and also owns a newspaper. He has one brother and three sisters. Tony enjoys basketball, soccer, swimming and posting. He has made many friends among his classmates with his warm personality and sincere interest in others.

Student Council Activities

One of the main objectives of the Student Council is to raise money for the Foreign Exchange Student Program.

This year, a number of activities were held for this purpose. One was a spaghetti dinner, held in the school cafeteria; and another was a basketball game between the faculty and the KQV High Hoopers. The game was played on Monday, February 5. Some of the Carnegie "stars" who participated were Mr. Zaney, Mr. Sobie, Mr. D'Alesandro, Mr. Marcenelle, Mr. Matovich and Mr. Bowers.

The turn-out for the game was far beyond that expected. Approximately $430 was collected and, to everyone's delight, the faculty won.

JUNIOR HIGH

Mrs. Virginia Funari

In our Junior high school, we have offered the seventh and eighth grades a well-rounded general education in preparation for the ninth grade when the students have a choice of electives which will eventually lead to some specialized education or vocational goal.

We hope the general and specialized education offered our students combined with the social and physical educational programs has made the past school term profitable as well as enjoyable. The faculty and administration of Harding Junior High School have striven to prepare each student for the future years and hope that the experiences of the past year will be a firm foundation for the future.
